

Intextra.web

Modern web sites made easy

Intextra®.web is a comprehensive and flexible content management platform for high quality web sites.

It's easy to use by non-technical people.

Content is edited 'in-place' so you can visualise your changes immediately.

Draft pages are kept private until you're ready to publish them.

Pages can be moved, copied, and deleted quickly so it's easy to change the structure of the site as your business changes.

Multiple versions of content can be stored and retrieved, so you never need to worry about losing important information.

Security and reliability are central.

The site health check system ensures that your web site meets the latest Search Engine Optimisation (SEO) guidelines and can help you to achieve a high ranking.

Intextra.web is designer-friendly and can accommodate any web design using a fully configurable template system. We'll work with you to ensure that the design meets your specific corporate branding objectives.

We can work with your appointed design agency or use our own creative team.

We have more than ten years experience working with high-profile businesses and web sites. We'll take the time to really understand your business and deliver the solution that's right for you.
